“When I was ten years old, my mother was driving me to my piano lesson. She turned on the radio, and that’s when I heard “Moonlight in Vermont” for the very first time. I told her it was the most beautiful song I’d ever heard. I kept going on and on about it. We were driving down Venture Boulevard, the main business street in Studio City. Unexpectedly, she parked the car in front of some stores and told me to stay in the car. In a couple minutes she was back. She handed me a slim paper bag. Inside was the sheet music for “Moonlight in Vermont.” I was ecstatic! This song reminds me what a wonderful mother she was.”
